Energy efficiency tip of the month

During the fall, these milder weeks between September and November, offer a great opportunity to reduce home energy consumption as the need for extensive heating or cooling is reduced. Look for simple ways to boost indoor comfort without running your heating and cooling system.

Use ceiling fans and open windows on breezy days to ventilate your home. On cooler days, add a layer of clothing and avoid running the heat.

Everyday electrical safety

Electricity plays many roles in our lives, from powering generators, cellphones and lighting to running HVAC systems and appliances. No wonder we get so comfortable with its instant availability. When we flip a switch, we expect most systems or devices to do the job. But that sense of reliability can lead to complacency, especially during the shift in seasons and the rush that comes with a new season.
